Support to Students' Studies

The Chow Yei Ching School of Graduate Studies (SGS, 周亦卿研究生院) aims to provide better coordination and strategic direction to ensure the continued development of postgraduate studies at CityU. SGS offers a training course to prepare students to undertake a limited teaching role. Besides, SGS also runs a Postgraduate Forum on a regular basis with an aim to support students’ research studies. It also compiles publications relating to graduate studies to recognize their hard work and achievements.

The Global Services Office (GSO) provides assistance and support to non-local students, including visa applications, orientation programmes, on-arrival assistance, and pastoral care and advice on personal and learning related issues. The website of GSO (http://www.cityu.edu.hk/gso) contains useful information about studying in Hong Kong and at CityU.

Student Development Services (SDS) is committed to enriching students’ educational experience and whole person development, through lectures and training courses on counselling, career development, wellness, leadership development, inter-personal relationship, communication, and stress management.

Assessment of Doctoral Thesis and Conferment of Degrees

A joint examination panel (联合答辯委員会) will be formed after students have submitted the doctoral theses, which consists of examiners invited by both CityU and home university. A method of “Voting by both sides in one oral defense” (一次答辯、两边投票) will be employed to fulfill the prescribed requirements of a doctoral degree.

Students studying in the joint PhD Programme must satisfy the requirements of both CityU and home university in order to be awarded with a graduation certificate and a PhD degree certificate. Upon fulfillment of the programme requirements and passing the thesis oral defense prescribed by both universities, a student can then apply for the PhD degree certificates awarded by the two universities. CityU and home university will separately issue the graduation/degree certificate in accordance with their own sets of rules and regulations (CityU’s award certificate will indicate that the PhD programme is jointly offered by CityU and home university). A student of the joint programme can attend graduation ceremonies at both universities.

How to look for a research supervisor at CityU?

1. Visit the official website of City University of Hong Kong at www.cityu.edu.hk
2. Point to “Offices and Department” at the top
3. Choose “Academic Departments”
4. Click on the academic unit that fits your discipline / research area and you will be directed to the relevant website
5. Point to “People (or similar term)”
6. Click on “Faculty (or similar term)”

A list of faculty members will be shown and you can check the profiles, as well as their contacts.

Alternatively, you may visit CityU’s webpage for admission to research degree programme (https://www.cityu.edu.hk/research-degree-programme), from which you can find the research areas of all the academic units. Please note that online application is NOT applicable for joint PhD programme and that some information on the admission page is NOT applicable to students under the joint PhD programme.

You should have discussed with your research supervisor at home university and have continued a proposed CityU research supervisor before submitting the application for the joint PhD programme. It is highly recommended that the two supervisors should reach an initial agreement for you to join the joint PhD programme. Otherwise, the process of your application will be delayed.

Application Procedures

Announcement will be made by the Graduate School or HK-Macau-Taiwan Office of the home university. Applications will be open in early November of a year for commencement of the joint PhD programme in September of the following year, and the deadline is usually set in mid-January. All applications must be submitted to and endorsed by the Graduate School or HK-Macau-Taiwan Office of the home university. Students must NOT submit their applications to CityU directly.

Admission Requirements

CityU has an open, transparent and fair procedure in selecting high quality research students. Candidates seeking admission to our joint PhD programmes should be current PhD students at home university or will become a PhD student at home university upon commencement of study under the joint PhD programme.

Please note that CityU adopts stringent admission criteria and we only admit students with truly outstanding qualifications.

English Proficiency Requirement

Candidates are required to satisfy the University’s minimum English proficiency requirement for postgraduate programmes. This may be satisfied by the following test scores:

- IELTS: A minimum score of 6.5
- TOEFL: A minimum score of 97

Programme Duration

The normal duration of the joint PhD programme is 4 years. The commencement date of research degree programmes is the first day of September to align with the academic year.

During the candidature of the joint PhD programme, students will study at home university, CityU’s main campus in Hong Kong and designated study locations in Mainland China (which currently includes UST-CityU Joint Advanced Research Centre (Shenzhen) (中国科学技术大学 ─ 香港城市大学联合高等研究中心) and CityU Shenzhen Research Institute, CityU/UST). Students will not be required to leave their home university, subject to approval of CityU.

Thesis Presentation

Students should write and present their theses in English.

Research directions and topics will be determined by their supervisors. Each student should write and present their thesis in English. The thesis shall be written and presented in accordance with the University’s requirements. Students are required to pay the tuition fee to CityU during their studies at home university or CityU’s designated study locations in Mainland China.

* Subject to review

Financial Assistance

Postgraduate Scholarship is available for eligible research students. The monthly rate is RMB6,000 (~US$875) during studies at UST-CityU Joint Advanced Research Centre (Shenzhen) (中国科学技术大学 ─ 香港城市大学联合高等研究中心) and RMB7,500 during studies at CityU’s designated study locations in Mainland China. To foster academic exchange, an annual PhD Student Workshop is organized and students under the joint PhD programmes can receive a subsidy which covers accommodation and travel expenses during the activity period.

In addition, to help widen students’ academic exposure, CityU offers the Peter Ho Cheung Foundation Scholarship (~US$4,000) to students under the joint PhD programme in support of attending overseas conferences.

* Rates for 2019/20 subject to annual revision every year

Tuition Fees

The tuition fee for full-time non-government funded research degree programme is HK$16,500 (~US$2,115) per month during studies at the home university or CityU’s designated study locations in Mainland China. CityU will provide a tuition grant to cover 50% of the tuition fee and the remaining 50% will be deducted from the monthly scholarship.

Students are not required to pay the tuition fee to CityU during their studies at home university or CityU’s designated study locations in Mainland China.

* Subject to review

Student Accommodation

During studies in Hong Kong, students are responsible for arranging accommodation on their own. During studies at CityU’s designated study locations in Mainland China, CityU provides accommodation to students, subject to availability.

Programme Structure

To be eligible for the award of a PhD degree, students are required to complete the coursework requirements of 14 credit units (including at least 6 credit units of core courses and at least 2 credit units of research methodology and ethics course of postgraduate level) and to submit a thesis. Students may apply for transfer and overseas research programmes at home university during their candidature. CityU reserves the right to make changes to the regulations stated here.

Individually Departments and Schools may stipulate a higher credit unit requirement.

Medium of Instruction/ Assessment and Thesis Presentation

The normal medium of instruction and assessment at CityU is English. Research students should write and present their theses in English.

Supervisory Arrangements

Students will follow a dual-supervision system (CityU + Home). CityU and the home university will each designate an academic staff member to be the student’s supervisor. These two supervisors will jointly advise and decide on course selection, research direction and their title and so on for their student.

Personal Accident and Medical Insurance/ Travel Insurance

All non-local students are required to purchase a personal accident and medical insurance/ travel insurance policy during their study period at CityU. The insurance premium shall be arranged on behalf of all the students by the Global Services Office (GSO). The estimated insurance premium per annum is around HK$254 (~US$33) [rate for 2018/19] which will be charged after enrolment.

Cost of Living

Non-local students are required to pay for their own travel expenses to and from Hong Kong, including airfare. The estimated average cost of living for a single student in Hong Kong is around HK$30,000 (~US$3,800) per month to cover tuition fees, food, lodging and general living expenses.

The Postgraduate Scholarship for research degree students should be sufficient to support students’ daily living expenses. Students will start receiving their stipend at the end of the first month after commencement of their study with CityU.
