Give the full names of all institutions (and the town in which each is located) that you have attended. In the case of qualifications taken outside of the UK give the exact title of the award - do not try to describe it in terms of the UK system. (Note that HND is not normally sufficient alone for postgraduate admission).

You must include details of all courses started, whether or not the course was completed. You must include any courses in which you were not successful so that the Admissions Tutor has a full record of your academic history – if there were circumstances that you would like the University to know about, that meant that you were not able to perform to the best of your abilities, you should enclose a letter to explain the full details.

Please state whether each programme was completed by full- or part- time study.

If you are a final-year student on a degree programme, please give details of the programme and your expected final, overall result.

For Postgraduate Degrees taken previously, please indicate the method of assessment; ie, by thesis, by written examination, or by dissertation and written examination.

Proof of completed qualifications must be submitted. You should arrange for a transcript of your academic record or other official statement of courses taken, showing grades achieved, together with confirmation of the qualification awarded and the overall grade/mark obtained, to be sent to the Admissions Office. Please also include an explanation of the grading system used. (Only Officially Certified copies (stamped by the awarding institute) are acceptable).

If providing an official translation into English also provide a certified copy of the certificate as issued in the first language.

Please note that as we cannot guarantee that certificates or transcripts can be returned you are advised to keep a copy.

Note 10 Evidence of Proficiency in English.

Applicants whose first language is not English must provide evidence of recent (within two years) formal qualifications they hold to prove English Language skills. Please check the University web site for current list of accepted certificates.

Applicants who have not achieved the level required for admission may be given a conditional acceptance, subject to achieving a prescribed standard before registration with the University. The University Language Institute offers English Language courses. (see details at www.hull.ac.uk/languages/efl/index.html).

References may alternatively be sent on business headed paper. All references must be less than 3 months old, written and signed by the referee and carry an official business stamp. MBA applicants are asked to give one academic and one professional reference. Character/personal references are not accepted. E-mailed references are not accepted. References must be originals.

In the box provided on the application form enter the name and full postal address of the two referees. You should be aware that the University may contact your referees to clarify any details of your application and in order to confirm authenticity of references. If further information is required the University may ask you to arrange for further references to be provided.

Please indicate who you expect to pay your tuition fees.

All offers are subject to the student having funding to support their studies.

'Self-financing' means you will be financed from your own or other private resources and will pay your tuition fees when you register.

'Direct Sponsor' means that you know that a government, public body or industrial company will be responsible for the direct payment of your tuition fees. Please give the name and address of that body. At least 6 weeks before registration you will be required to provide written confirmation from your sponsor that they will pay your tuition fees for that session. You will not be permitted to register without advance written confirmation of your sponsorship or payment of fees.

Note 13 Disability

So that we may assist you and advise on appropriate opportunities we invite you to declare here whether you have a disability. If you do not complete this section the University will have to assume that you have no disability.

This information will be passed to the University's Disabilities Officer and the academic department concerned so that they will be aware of your needs if you are offered a place. If you have any specific concerns about the support you might need please tell us now. Where appropriate, details will also be passed to our Occupational Health Nurse. You may enclose a separate confidential letter to the Disabilities Officer if you prefer.

The Equal Opportunities Code of Practice for Admissions is available on the web site (www.hull.ac.uk).

Note 14 The Criminal Convictions Declaration and Risk Assessment Process

The University has a risk assessment process designed to reduce the risk of harm or injury to members of the University population caused by the criminal behaviour of any student. We therefore need to know about any relevant criminal convictions that an applicant has. Tick 'yes' only if you have a relevant criminal conviction as explained below.

Relevant criminal convictions are only those convictions for offences against the person, whether of a violent or sexual nature, and convictions for offences involving unlawfully supplying controlled drugs or substances where the conviction concerns commercial drug dealing or trafficking. Convictions that are spent (as defined by the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1972) are not considered to be relevant and you should not reveal them (however see next paragraph).

If you are applying for a course in teaching, health, social work and/or any course/s involving work with children and/or vulnerable adults, you must tell us about any criminal conviction, including spent sentences and cautions (including verbal cautions) and bindover orders. For those courses, you may later be required to have an enhanced Criminal Records Bureau disclosure (www.crb.gov.uk).

If you are serving a prison sentence at present, give the prison address as your correspondence address and obtain a reference from a senior prison officer to support your application.

Applicants who declare a criminal conviction will not automatically be excluded from the application process but the University will wish to activate the risk assessment process (details of which are available from the Admissions Service) and we will ask for further details before reaching a decision on your application.

If you are convicted of a relevant offence after you have applied, you must inform the Admissions Service immediately in order for the risk assessment process to be followed.

Note 15 Data Protection

In accordance with the UK Data Protection legislation the University will not discuss your application with any other person without your prior written consent.

If you wish, in advance, to give authority for the University to liaise with another person in relation to your application on your behalf (for example you may ask another person to collect letters from the Admissions Office) you must advise us. That person will be asked for identification by the University. You should ensure that they have your details including your full name as written on your application form, the course you have applied for and your applicant code (this will be issued by email when your form is received in the Admissions Office (see Note 7)).

Note 16 Ethnic origin

The University is required by HESA (Higher Education Statistical Agency) to collect this information for statistical purposes. ## PREPARING A RESEARCH PROPOSAL

(THIS GUIDANCE IS PROVIDED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF HULL GRADUATE SCHOOL)

Writing a convincing and well argued research proposal is an essential part of being accepted for a research degree. *It meets several purposes:

1. It helps you to clarify your own ideas on what you want to do and what your priorities are.
2. It enables the department to which you have applied to decide whether or not it has the expertise to supervise you, and, if it does, to identify appropriate supervisors. It also enables us to discuss with you any changes which we might wish to suggest so that we are able to supervise it more appropriately; we recognise that in the science based areas the research proposal may already be determined by a departmental research team or the supervisor in the context of a funded research project. In these cases, many of the guidelines presented here may not apply.
3. At an early stage it allows potential supervisors and other members of the department to ask questions about content, approach, values and methodology before you embark on the study proper and to determine the facilities required for the research.
4. It allows potential problems to be identified at this preliminary stage and to be resolved before you move much further down the line.

Your application, then, should be up to about 1,000 words in length or up to 3 to 4 sides of A4, and should ensure:

- a) that the title indicates the field, scope and topic of the proposed study;
- b) that you can indicate an awareness of some of the significant literature in your chosen field or whether there is very little, if any, relevant literature in this field;
- c) that you formulate clearly the research question, problem or issue that you wish to address and indicate how it might contribute to the advancement of knowledge and scholarship in this field: in other words, you have to state why you think your proposed research is important and how you might make an original contribution to knowledge.
- d) that you provide an account of the kind of research methods you feel appropriate to such a study i.e. will this be by questionnaire, interviews, participant observation, archival and library research, laboratory work, team-based research etc, and the balance between these;
- e) that you provide enough background on yourself and the topic to show how the study fits with your past or present experience, your concerns and interests, and, if appropriate, the concerns of your current employer or organisation;

f) that you have already ascertained that the data sources, organisations and individuals who will be critical to your study will be accessible to you.

IN SUMMARY, then, you need to provide evidence in your proposal of

- Appropriateness of title
- Literature appreciation
- Carefully framed research question or problem
- Research methods
- Suitability to personal situation and experience
- Accessibility of information sources

If these are properly covered in your proposal, we will be able to provide you with a more helpful, accurate and quick response to your application.

* Please note that for international students there is a more detailed 'Guide to Study Skills' which gives you a step-by-step guide to preparing a research proposal. This can be obtained as a printed booklet from the International Office (international@hull.ac.uk).
